What to do:

Day 1 → after the arrival you can have relax at MOMA €21 per person ($25 per person) admiring some picture of Chagall, Picasso, Van Gogh, Degas and other famous painters. In the evening you can go to the hotel;

Day 2 → in the morning you can take a walk in Central Park and admire Balto Statue, and, at 5-min walk, you can admire the Trump Tower, then take train n.1 to Times Square. You can have lunch at Hard Rock Cafè or you can return to the hotel. In the afternoon you can go visit the Empire State Building and enjoy the 360° view €33 per person ($38 per pers.). After that you can go shopping.

Day 3 → In the morning you can visit the Met in Central Park €21 per person ($25 per pers.) and then you can go ice skate in Rockefeller Plaza (the admission is free of charge). In the afternoon you can visit the Statue of Liberty with the possibility to go on the Crown €25 per person ($28.50 per pers.).

I recommend you to go to Times Square very early because you can take the best places to enjoy the show and, at midnight, you can admire the New Year's Eve Ball;

Day 4 → In the you can visit the Italian American neighbourhood, Little Italy, taking the F Subway to Coney Island. In this beautiful neighbourhood you can walk along Mulberry Street, but if you want to discover the true Little Italy you must go along Arthur Avenue. After that you can visit Chinatown (6-min walk from Little Italy), there you can visit Columbus Park (the only green area of the neighbourhood), the Church of the Transfiguration and Pell Street, one of the most important streets of Chinatown;

Day 5 → In the morning you can go to Hell's Kitchen Flea Market, taking M11, to admire many vintages things. For lunch I recommend you "Gotham West Market". After that you can visit the USS Intrepid from outside and then you can take M to reach the Soldiers' and sailors' Monument. At the sunset you can go on Brooklyn Bridge to admire the skyline;

Day 6 → On the last day you take a walk in Central Park and go shopping in Times Square. You can take lunch at the hotel. At 12pm check-out and leave the baggage at the reception so you can visit Carnegie Hall and Lincoln Center from outside. After that I recommend you to go to the airport;
